"Who Said Sunny France?"

It lies on your blankets and over your bed,
There's mud in the cover that covers your head,
There's mud in the coffee, the slum, and the bread,—Sunny France!
Oh, the grimy mud, the slimy mud, the mud that makes you swear,
The cheesey mud, the greasy mud, that filters through your hair.
You sleep in the mud, and drink it, that's true;
There's mud in the bacon, the rice and the stew,
When you open an egg, you'll find mud in it, too—Sunny France!
Oh, the muddy mud, the muddy mud, the mud that gets your goat,
The sliding mud, the gliding mud, that sprays your pants and coat!

It cakes in your mouth till you feel like an ox,
It slips down your back and it rests in your sox;
You think that you're walking on cut glass and rocks—Sunny France!

There's mud in your gas mask, there's mud in your hat,
There's mud in your helmet, there's mud on your gat,
Yet though mud's all around us we're happy at that—Sunny France!
Oh, the dank, dank mud, the rank, rank mud, there's just one guy to blame;
We'll wish him well (we will like ——) and Kaiser Bill's his name!

Jack Warren Carrol, Corp., F. A.

Trench Mud

We have heard of Texas gumbo
And the mud in the Philippines,
Where, if we had legs like Jumbo,
The mud would cover our jeans.
But never did we get a chance
To feel real mud till we hit France.

Our shoes are deep in it,
We often sleep in it,
We almost weep in it—
It's everywhere;
We have to fight in it,
And vent our spite in it,
We look a sight in it,
But we don't care!

The mud that lies in No Man's Land
Is as thick on the other side,
And where the Germans make their stand
Is where we'll make them slide,
For our hob-nailed shoes will force a way,
And we'll knock them cold—for the U. S. A.

Though we must eat in it,
Wash our feet in it,
Try to look neat in it,
This mud and slime;
Though we get sore in it,
Grumble and roar in it,
We'll win the war in it
In our good time!

LACTEIN FOR POULTRY

Corless Brothers, of Petaluma, have a poultry farm of thirty thousand laying hens. It's the largest egg ranch in the world.

Corless Brothers are strong for Lactein, and here is what they say of it:

"We are using Lactein. For laying hens we find it a fine tonic and egg producer. And as for the feeding of baby chicks, we consider the use of Lactein indispensable."

That's a strong recommendation!

Now, what is Lactein? Sounds like a relative of milk, doesn't it? It is milk—condensed buttermilk! Put up by the Lactein Food Company of Modesto. Sold by live dealers everywhere, and in particular by Blaine's Store of Campbell.

Congregational Church Changes Pastors

Rev. W. E. Eckles finds his health so impaired by his experience in France hat a long rest from ministerial labors is necessary. For this reason he presented his resignation to the church and at a called meeting the resignation was accepted and he was released from the pastorate. At the same meeting a unanimous call was extended to Rev. H. L. Preston, who has been acting pastor since last July, to become pastor of the church.

Mr. Preston has accepted the call and will be in the pulpit both morning and evening next Sunday to greet all members and friends of the church.

Easter Services

Easter was celebrated in the congregational church with a combination service of the Sabbath school and church services. The Superintendent was our leader as our newly called pastor, Mr. Preston had not returned to take up his work with us.

The church was beautifully decorated with lillies, white lilac and bridal wreath.

A large cross of callas stood in the center with a profusion of ferns and white roses on either hand. The service was opened by the choir dressed in white which sang the processional as they slowly passed up the aisle.

Then the children of the primary class sang a little song "Spring is here" very sweetly and they showed careful training. After prayer and other opening exercises the chotr of women gave an Easter cantata, Mrs. Harry Smith reading in a very effective way the Easter story as told by the different apostles and the choir responding in song. It was given in a very excellent manner and showed the result of training by the leader Mrs. Guard, and careful, faithful work on the part of the singesr The large congregation will long remember it as a helpful inspirational service, full of a message of promise for us all with Christ's own words when He left the disciples of "Lo, I am with you always even to the end of the age."

Bananas Used in Hoovering Flour

A medical missionary from Africa, representing the M. E. Church, South, is now in America on furlough. The missionary said that, during the war, flour was a most precious commodity and bananas were used. This banana flour was made by peeling and cutting green bananas into strips, then drying them in the sun thoroughly. When the bananas were dry, they were pounded in a mortar until they became a light, soft and perfectly good flour.

A boy of seven protested earnestly after his vacation against being sent back to school. "What," said his father, "don't you want to go to school?" "Yes, but not to that school." "And why not to that school?" "Because they want to teach me a lot of things that I don't know any thing about."

BOY SCOUTS

SCOUT PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The war is over. Peace is here. Our ninth anniversary finds scouting stronger than ever. There are more scouts, more leaders, more troops.

Again we look forward to a year in the man-making out-of-doors.

The greatest need of a nation is for men—not the mush-and-molly sort, but the self-reliant, red-blooded man; the man who has lived in the open all seasons of the year, who likes the zest of the winter winds and can enjoy the heat of the blazing sun; the man who loves the hikes and camps, the open-air games and self-cooked meals, the stars, the trees, the birds, and in fact every phase of scouting, as it brings him in touch with nature's wondrous revelation of God.

The nation has need of more such men as that typical scout, our great former president, whose recent death the nation mourns and now memorializes, and whose greatness of character and achievement were largely made possible by his active outdoor life.

Let us dedicate ourselves to a year of intensive outdoor scouting, such as that great man lived, so that the life of our nation may be vitalized by more men such as he.

Several outstanding obligations rest upon every scout. His life from day to day should, first of all, be an unbroken chain of good turns and acts that square with the scout chain and law—each act as a link, each link so strong that the chain of the scout's life will hold whatever the strain of trial or burden. Furthermore, each life should be centered in a body made so strong with rigorous contact with the out-of-doors that illness and weakening habits find no place in his life, and he will ultimately develop into a robust, scoutlike, thorough-going American citizen.

LEARNING TO TELL THE TREES.

One of the Most Interesting Nature Studies of the Scouts.

CHURCH COUNCIL FOR SCOUTS.

The federal council of the Churches of Christ in America has voted the following resolution:

"The federal council of the Churches of Christ in America, through its administrative committee, expresses its deep sympathy with the boy scout movement.

"Several of the constituent denominations of the council have appointed commissions on relationship with the boy scout movement and render earnest testimony of its great value to the church.

"The attitude of the Boy Scouts of America in their recognition of religion and their loyalty to the church is cause for deep appreciation upon the part of the churches."

TRYING OUT THE WOLF CUBS.

Dallas, Tex., in experimenting with the Wolf cub idea, is limiting itself to one group of cubs.

Scout leaders are watching with care to see whether the younger boy, who receives something of the scout training in the Wolf cub patrol, loses his keen desire for scouting or by his insight into it is impelled to a more genuine appreciation.

One or the Other.

"Is that picture one of the old masters?"

"I think so," answered Mr. Cumrox. "Either that picture is an old master, or the man who sold it to me is a wizard of finance."

Tests for Clothing Material

By the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

When buying staple clothing materials, if you are not a good judge of quality, it is an excellent idea to look at several pieces of the same type of material but with different prices and compare the weight, color, and firmness of weave. Such a comparison will often emphasize the fact that the most expensive piece is not necessarily the best quality. It may be the season's most fashionable color and weight, and its high price probably is due to slight variations in the finishing and the fleetng popularity of the style.

There has been a tendency to abuse the practice of asking for samples from dress goods departments, but at times a sample is quite justifiable, as it will give the opportunity for home tests. Cotton and linen are affected by acids and very slightly affected by alkalies, while the reverse is true of wool.

TESTING SILK BY BURNING.

Silk on right, heavily loaded with mineral matter, keeps its shape after burning, while the ash of pure silk, on left, crumbles.

The alkalies found in the home are washing sodas and the washing powders. The office of home economics of the United States department of agriculture suggests using the following simple test to determine the amount of cotton in a mixed fabric:

Add four tablespoonfuls of washing soda, or five tablespoonfuls of washing powder, to a pint of soft water. The washing soda should be rolled to a powder before measuring. Bring to boiling and add sample, which should be about one and one-half inches square. Boil carefully, to avoid spattering, for 20 minutes, adding water at intervals to replace that lost by evaporation. Transfer sample to cold water and rub between the fingers. The wool, which is gelatinized by the boiling, will disappear on rubbing and the cotton threads will be left unchanged.

Weights of Vegetables

Housewives Warned of Short Measures.

That housewives may be protected against short weight practices of wagon peddlers, Chicago's city sealer has issued a table of weights of vegetables to the peck and bushel.

Warmer weather is coming on and with that the wagon venders of the vegetable needs of the family are becoming more numerous on the streets and alleys. The sealer warns against purchase by measure, which is prohibited by ordinance, and advises that every housewife insist that the commodities be weighed.

He advises that the following list be cut out and kept in a handy place:

Number of pounds to the peck.

Apples	12½	Peaches	12
Beans, green and string	6	Peanuts, green.	5½
		Peanuts, roasted	5
Beans, wax	6	Pears	14½
Beans, castor	11½	Peas, dried	15
Beans, white	15	Peas, green, in pod	8
Beets	15	Potatoes, Irish.	15
Carrots	12½	Potatoes, sweet.	12½
Cranberries	8½	Quinces	12
Cucumbers	12	Rutabagas	12½
Gooseberries	10	Spinach	3
Hickory nuts	12½	Tomatoes	14
Onions	14½	Turnips	13¾
Parsnips	12½

The bushel weights are, of course, just four times the figures given above.

What Produces Odor.

No substance that refuses to dissolve in water has an odor. It is the actual substance itself, floating in particles in the air, as in the case of light and sound. The damper a thing the more powerful the odor it gives off. A pleasant proof of the fact can be had by walking in a garden after rain. It is the vapor of a liquid that smells and not the liquid in the mass itself.

HERE AND THERE

A true actor never overacts his part.

A bulldog barks first and bites afterward.

An egotist is a man who enjoys talking to himself.

Analogy is merely a method of convincing without proof.

A man's shoes may get tight by imbibing water, but he doesn't.

The successful blacksmith can either shoe a horse or make a horse shoe.

Unnecessary to Slit Crows' Tongues to Enable Them to Learn to Talk—It Is Cruel

The organ of the Agassiz society contains a discussion by prominent bird authorities concerning the old idea of slitting a crow's tongue to make the bird talk. The following is abstracted:

"It is a common practice in the West to catch the young birds in early June and place them in a cage, where they become very tame and usually talk as well as a parrot. Many people keeping these birds have believed it necessary to slit their tongues before they could learn to talk. This is wholly unnecessary and cruel and should be prevented by law.

"The discussion of slitting crows' tongues is relegated to the medieval limbo of belief of the ill luck of peacock feathers; of dragon flies sewing up one's ears; of whisky for snake bite; of man-eating sharks; of rabbit's feet and the number 13; of going under ladders, spilling salt and breaking mirrors."

NEIGHBORS

As often as we thought of her,
We thought of a gray life
That made a quaint economist
Of a wolf-haunted wife;
We made the best of what she bore
That was not ours to bear,
And honored her for wearing things
That were not things to wear.

There was a distance in her look
That made us look again;
And if she smiled, we might believe
That we had looked in vain.
Rarely she came inside our doors,
And had not long to stay;
And when she left, it seemed somehow
That she was far away.

And once, when we had all forgot
That all is here to change,
A shadow on the commonplace
'Was for a moment strange.
Yet there was nothing for surprise,
Nor much that need be told:
Love, with its gift of pain, had given
More than one heart could hold,

—Edwin Arlington Robinson, in Yale Review.

Medicine Label Important.

Medicine should always be poured out from the side of the bottle opposite to the label bearing the directions. The directions are important or they would not be there, and if they are blurred or obliterated entirely a mistake is liable to occur. We may think we will remember exactly what that label said, but if the bottle has been set away a week or a month it may be difficult to remember whether the dose was half a teaspoonful or two teaspoonfuls.

DAIRY

BETTER BREEDING HELPS

In dairying large production and profit go hand in hand. Breeding furnishes the most economical way to obtain large-producing cows. The purebred bull, with generations of high-producing ancestors back of him, must be used for breeding, and only the best heifers from the best cows should be chosen to be the dams of the next generation.

CERTAIN BULK IS NECESSARY

Table Gives Classification of Common Feeds as to Bulkiness—Palatability Important.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A certain bulk is necessary in the grain mixture given to the dairy cow to obtain the best results. When heavy feeds are used, some bulky ones should be included to lighten the mixture, since it is probable that a certain degree of bulkiness aids digestion. Some of the common feeds are classified as to bulk in the following table:

Raise the Dairy Calves, the Nation Needs Them.

Classification of Common Feeds as to Bulkiness.

Bulky.	Gluten feed
Alfalfa meal	Rye
Corn-and-cob meal	Barley
Bran (wheat)	Heavy or
Dried brewers' grains	Compact.
Dried distillers' grns.	Buckwheat middlings
Oats, ground	Cottonseed meal
Malt sprouts	Linseed meal
Dried beet pulp	Coconut meal
Medium.	Peanut meal
Corn meal or feed	Gluten meal
Hominy	Wheat middlings

Palatability is of great importance in successful feeding. The best results can not be obtained with any feed which is not well relished by the cow; consequently any unpalatable feed to be used should be mixed with those that are appetizing.

In making the grain mixture care should be exercised that too large a quantity of either constipating or laxative feed is not included. Cottonseed meal, for example, is decidedly constipating and should be fed with laxative grains or succulents, such as silage or roots. For ordinary feeding in most parts of the United States not more than one-third of the grain should be cottonseed meal. In some sections larger quantities have been fed, but this practice is not be recommended. On the other hand, linseed-oil meal, because of its distinctly laxative action, should not be fed ordinarily in greater quantities than 1½ pounds a day.

MAKE TEST OF YOUNG BULLS

Some of Best Breeders Loan Out Animals to Dairymen in Community to Try Them Out.

Some of the best breeders follow the practice of lending out a number of the young bulls to dairymen in the community merely for the purpose of trying them out. Of course, many of these bulls prove to be mediocre, but when a valuable one is found he is the property of the lender and will repay any expense involved in his discovery.

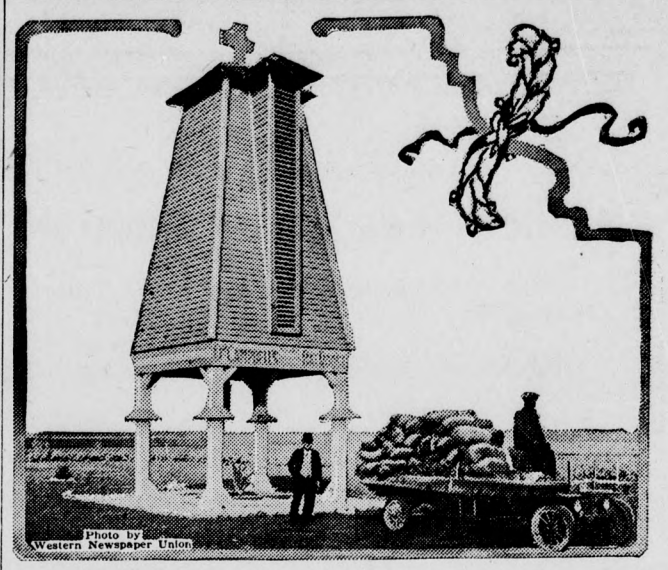
A sire that has proved his worth always is in demand and can be sold readily if the public knows of his whereabouts. The purchaser can be found by advertising.

FATAL WEAKNESS OF DAIRY

Use of Sires Whose Ability to Improve Production Is Unknown Cause of Trouble.

A fatal weakness in the dairy business is haphazard breeding, that is the use of sires whose ability to improve dairy production is unknown. Of course this cannot be known until some of his daughters come into production. And it cannot then be known with any degree of accuracy unless performance records are kept upon the cows and their daughters. Up to this time reliance has been placed upon the ancestry of a bull almost entirely, with the stress laid upon the fact of registration.

START A BAT ROOST



Dr. Charles A. Campbell in front of one of his bat roosts at San Antonio, Tex. Doctor Campbell has rendered the city of San Antonio a great service by his introduction of bats to combat the malaria mosquitoes that caused so many deaths in Texas. The bat is a natural enemy of the mosquito and they consist of its food. By building roosts for these bats, San Antonio was soon rid of its mosquitoes, besides making available land that heretofore could not be used on that account. The bats are self-sustaining, as the guano they produce is sold for fertilizer.

Alcohol and Automobiles

Why Passing of John Barleycorn Will be Boon to Motorist and to Motor Industry

Says one motorcar builder who is also a bit of philosopher:

Old John Barleycorn is getting ready to take the count. By next July he'll be groggy and by January 1, 1920, the average citizen will not be able to fill a thimble. What will this mean to the automobile industry? A great deal, viz.:

1. There will be few motorcar accidents, because rum has been at the bottom of most disasters.

2. There will be fewer arrests for speeding, because it is rum that makes the auto go.

3. The pest of the roadhouses and their bars will be removed, thereby enhancing touring for those who don't care for barroom loitering and the pursuits thereof.

4. Billions of dollars spent for booze will be available for other purchases. The motorcar industry will benefit by this.

5. There will be more alcohol to put into anti-freeze mixtures—not for the human system, but the automobile's system.

SOMEHOW OR OTHER

Life is a burden to everyone's shoulder;
None may escape from its troubles and care;
Miss it in youth and 'twill come when we're older,
And fit us as close as the garments we wear.
Sorrow comes into our homes uninvited,
Robbing our heart of its treasures of song;
Lovers grow cold and our friendships are slighted.
Yet somehow or other we worry along.

'Midst the sweet blossoms that smile on our faces,
From the rank weeds that would poison and blight,
And e'en in the midst of earth's beautiful places
There always is something that isn't just right.
Yet oft from the rock we may pick a gay flower,
And drink from a spring in a desolate waste;
They come to the heart as a heavenly dower,
And naught is so sweet to the eye or the taste.

Every-day toil is an every-day blessing,
Though poverty's cottage and crust we may share;
Weak is the back on which burdens are pressing,
But stout is the heart that is strengthened by prayer.
Somehow or other the pathway grows brighter,
Just when we mourned there was none to befriend;
Hope in the heart makes the burden seem lighter,
And somehow or other we get to the end.

Alloy of Gold and Aluminum Has Brilliant Purple Color

It is not generally known that an alloy composed of seventy to seventy-five parts of gold and twenty-five to thirty parts of aluminum possesses a brilliant purple color. While the metal is exceedingly beautiful, it has been found impossible to utilize it in jewelry, owing to its brittleness. It is curious that the combination of two soft, ductile metals, like aluminum and gold, the one white and the other yellow, should produce a hard, brittle alloy of purple color, having, in fact, no properties in common with either of the component metals.

30,000 Lakes in Florida

There are 30,000 lakes in the central regions of Florida, most of them very shallow and due to sinkholes or hollows in limestone.

Without the Wind and Air All Life Would Cease and Vegetation Would Perish

Everybody knows what the wind is, of course. Why, you can feel it, and see the trees bend before it, and the dust carried along and leaves overturned and the clouds moved by the wind, writes George F. Burba, in the Columbus Dispatch. The wind is a movement of the air; when the air is still, there is no wind, and when the air moves hurriedly that is what we call wind. Certainly all of that is simple enough.

But sit right down here and try to figure out what the wind is, and where it comes from and where it goes—and yet we find that the fellow who wrote in the Bible that no man knew from whence the wind came, nor whither it listeth, had it about right. It is easy enough to know the effects of the wind. The hot winds of summer burn and scorch, and the cold winds of winter bite and sting. Moisture is absorbed by the air when the winds are blowing—or the winds dry up the roads, as we say.

Neither the birds nor the animals like the wind. They avoid it the best they can, both in winter and in summer. They prefer a calm, quiet day to a windy day. They make their homes and nests where they will be least affected by the wind. You will always find a rabbit sitting where the wind doesn't blow upon it; it is protected from the wind always. The same thing is true of other animals, and of the birds.

And yet the wind is tremendously useful. If the air were to remain motionless for a day, if a perfect calm should come over the face of the earth, life would cease to be, and vegetation would perish. Everything would suffocate or be destroyed. For it is the wind that keeps the earth pure and sweet and fresh, and prevents animal life from burning up, and makes vegetable life possible.

And when it comes to pure delight, there isn't anything that exceeds the wind. To have it pass over us, to feel it upon our cheeks, even when it is cold and harsh, surely there is nothing more glorious. To walk in the face of a storm, as if meeting the wind halfway—there isn't anything finer than that, and we are going to miss a lot of pleasure if we do not get out and face the wind—and enjoy it.

Year's Trapping Nets Pair $10,000—Sole Residents of Island Off Cordova, Alaska

For nine years Joseph Ibach and his wife have been the sole residents of Middleton island, about 60 miles from Cordova, Alaska. Recently they came to Cordova with 100 blue fox skins, valued at approximately $10,000, representing the fruits of one year's work on a spot of land never visited by anyone except the crew of the power schooner that takes supplies to the Ibachs and brings them to the coast.

The Ibachs never find time dragging on their hands. Feeding of their foxes alone is a considerable task, as each animal requires two and a half pounds of fish daily. With 150 foxes on the island, the work of supplying sufficient fish for them is formidable in itself. Seal meat and vegetables are also fed to the foxes, the vegetables being raised by the Ibachs.

In summer time the Ibachs sometimes add much to their income by panning the sands on the beach for gold dust.

Origin of Alma Mater.

This term, applied to colleges and universities wherein men receive their scholastic training, is of Roman Catholic origin. It originated in medieval times in the University of Bonn, Germany. Over the portal of that seat of learning stands a statue of the mother of Christ known as the Alma Mater, or beloved mother.

WE ARE ALONE

From the Unkown
We come to meet the miracle of life
And uncompanioned enter in the strife,
We are alone.

Toward the Unkown
We go to meet the miracle of death
And solitary do we yield our breath,
We are alone.

For the unkown
Our majesty we cannot delegate,
For no Adventure may we abdicate,
We are alone.

So be it known
This is the law of Nature's wisdom bared;
The sovereign moments never may be shared,
We are alone.

Hurrah! How's This
Cincinnati authority says corns dry up and lift out with fingers.

Ouch ! ? ! ? ! ! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called freezone when applied to a tender, aching corn or hardened callus stops soreness at once, and soon the corn or callus dries up and lifts right off without pain.

He says freezone dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding skin. A small bottle of freezone will cost very little at any drug store, but will positively remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels. If your druggist doesn't have freezone tell him to order a small bottle for you.—Adv.

HOW TO AVOID BACKACHE AND NERVOUSNESS
Told by Mrs. Lynch From Own Experience.

Providence, R. I.—"I was all run down in health, was nervous, had headaches, my back ached all the time. I was tired and had no ambition for anything. I had taken a number of medicines which did me no good. One day I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for women, so I tried it. My nervousness and backache and headaches disappeared. I gained in weight and feel fine, so I can honestly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any woman who is suffering as I was."—Mrs. ADELINE B. LYNCH, 100 Plain St., Providence, R. I.

Backache and nervousness are symptoms or nature's warnings, which indicate a functional disturbance or an unhealthy condition which often develops into a more serious ailment.

Women in this condition should not continue to drag along without help, but profit by Mrs. Lynch's experience, and try this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and for special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.

CALOMEL MAKES YOU SICK. UGH!
"Dodson's Liver Tone" better than calomel and can not salivate.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel, just remember that your druggist sells for a few cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.—Adv.

The Idea.

"The powers talk now of demobilizing. Formerly, the thory was that large armies and navies tended to preserve peace."

"I suppose they are now of the opinion that peace preserved that way would turn out to be something of a pickle instead."

Hopefulness.

"Charley, dear," said young Mrs. Torkins, "I hope you will go right on discussing the league of nations with everybody you meet."

"You think I have the subject pretty well in hand, eh?"

"No. I'm hoping that if you keep on conversing maybe you'll find out something about it from somebody."

MEN AND WOMEN Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness often disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased. For good results use Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney medicine. At druggists in large and medium size bottles. Sample size bottle by Parcel Post, also pamphlet.
Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents. When writing mention this paper.—Adv.

His Part.

"That poor woman has not been married any time, and already she is taking in washing."

"What is her husband doing?"

"He is taking in the proceeds."

"That Needle,' remarked the Skirt, "is always making piercing remarks."

"Yes," replied the Shirt. "I imagine his fell purpose is to see the seamy side of life."

PRUNE and APRICOT GROWERS
Anounce schedule of meetings.

Mr. H. C. Dunlap, Organization manager of the California Prune and Apricot Growers announces the following schedule of meetings to be held throughout Santa Clara County.

Thursday, April 17th, 8:00 P. M.—City Hall, Gilroy, Cal.
Friday, April 18th, 8:00 P. M.—Commercial Club, Mt. View, Cal.
Wednesday, April 23rd, 8:00 P. M.—Friendly Inn, Morgan Hill, Cal.
Saturday, April 26th, 8:00 P. M.—Campbell Coffee Club, Campbell, Cal.
Tuesday, April 29th, 8:00 P. M.—Stowell Hall, Sunnyvale, Cal. (Under C. of C.)
Wednesday, April 30th, 8:00 P. M.—Foothill Club House, Saratoga, Cal.
Thursday, May 1st, 8:00 P. M.—Cupertino Imp. Club, Cupertino, Cal.
Friday, May 2nd, 8:00 P. M.—Berryessa school, Berryessa, Cal.
Saturday, May 3rd, 8:00 P. M.—Town Hall, Los Gatos, Cal.
Monday, May 5th, 8:00 P. M.—Evergreen school, Evergreen, Cal.
Tuesday, May 6th, 8:00 P. M.—Town Hall, Santa Clara, Cal.

These meetings are, of course, only a portion of the schedule now arranged and in progress. The Association is, all told, holding some forty odd meetings in all the prune and apricot producing districts of the state. Meetings have already been held in Southern California and the North Bay Counties, and from the 11th to the 16th meetings are scheduled to be held in San Joaquin and Sacramento County valley districts. These meetings are for the purpose of giving growers the best possible opportunity of meeting and hearing the officers of the Association. With the present planting our state will in the very near future be the producer of double and treble the present dried prune and apricot crops, and only through the efforts of an Association such as we have can we hope to maintain profits to producers, and in any manner stabilize land values. The Association is at present managed and handled by most certainly an intelligent, honest and earnest body of men, and reasonable successes have already been attained. According as growers see fit to properly support the movement the greater success to which we are all entitled will be assured.

It is certainly to be hoped that growers at present non-members will avail themselves of the opportunity of these meetings. Their failure to join in many instances may be due to a lack of a full knowledge of the issues involved, and the six thousand five hundred present members of the Association—their neighbors and fellow growers—feel they are entitled to consideration and investigation on the part of all. The future of the Prune and Apricot industry of California is at stake, and it lies within the power of growers as individuals to judge of the California Prune and Apricot Growers' Inc. as an insurance against the possibility over-production and glutted markets in normal times sure to come. No prune or apricot grower who considers himself a business man should forego the opportunity of these meetings. A frank discussion and attention to growers' inquiries will be a part of the program on every occasion.

Address by John R. Mott
At Carnagie Hall, N. Y. City

The attitude of the Y. M. C. A. with reference to criticism is to welcome all honest and constructive criticism, no matter from what quarter. We judge of the honesty of critics in two ways: First, Is the person who makes the criticism ready to give us the name, date and place? He should at least be willing to do so in strict confidence. I need not add that we carefully guard any such confidence, but it is impossible to deal adequately with criticisms unless the critic is willing to be thus definite. If he is unwilling to afford you a handle of which you can take hold, is it unfair to assume that there is something ulterior or unfair behind his criticism? The second way by which we judge the honesty of a critic is his attitude and action after he has shared with you the information on which his criticism is based. If, after he has given you the definite facts and his best personal advice and you have assured him that you will give the matter prompt and thorough attention, he goes behind your back and continues to knock and to spread distrust, you can make up your mind that he is not playing the game and that there is something sinister back of it all.

Our request of all sincere critics, and by that I mean all those who really desire to have the grounds of criticism removed for the good of the service on behalf of the men in the Army and Navy is four-fold: In the first place, be definite; secondly, be constructive. No critic should be content with dealing simply in negatives. If he is a true patriot he surely desires to have every American institution become stronger and more efficient. Thirdly, play the game; that is, when assurance has been given that the complaint will be investigated and that it will be dealt with conscientiously, give the organization the benefit of the doubt. Fourthly, let him tell all of the good things he knows about the Association. A lady was talking with a wounded soldier in a hospital the other day, and in answer to her question about the Y. M. C. A. he replied, "It is no good. It is a bunch of grafters." She asked him to give his proofs and she jotted down in writing what he had to say. After he had told all the unfavorable facts which he had to give regarding the Association she asked, "Is there any good things about the Y. M. C. A. work overseas which you can mention?"

He was puzzled a little at first, and then said, (and, I repeat, he had called the Association workers "a bunch of grafters"): "Yes. In that port where I spent so much time they gave us the best meals at the lowest prices we had anywhere."

She inquired, "Was there anything else good about the Y. M. C. A.?"

"Yes. They changed my money there at satisfactory rates. We fellows had been greatly fleeced by others before."

"Was there anything else?" she pressed.

"Yes. The Y. M. C. A. had the place where we fellows used to meet; it was a bright, warm place; in fact, the only place of that kind open to us. No, no; let me correct myself. I belong to the Army, but I will say that the Y. M. C. A. did a great thing for the Navy in that town. They had just dedicated a Navy Hut, one of the finest I had seen anywhere in France, and it was awfully popular with the men of the Navy."

"Did you see anything else good?"

"Yes. They had the American magazines and writing paper and other things that the men wanted."

"Were all these things supplied free?"

"Yes. I don't remember that they charged us for any of them. By the way," he continued, "do you know that great preacher to young men?" He could not tell the name and she could not make out from his remarks who it was, but I have learned since that it was Dr. Truett of Texas, one of the greatest preachers to men in the United States. "I am not much on religion, but that man got me on the day I ought to be got." And so he went on, she told me, until before he finished he had mentioned a dozen or more things in praise of the Y. M. C. A., in contrast with the two or three minor matters to which he had called attention at the beginning of the conversation.

We do not expect to escape criticism. One day our Chief Secretary in France went to General Pershing, when there were quite a number of criticisms because we were not getting supplies overseas fast enough and were not getting them up to the front as quickly as desired, for the simple reason that the Government itself could not give us the necessary tonnage owing to military necessities and that they had been obliged to take over a number of our motor trucks for pressing military needs, and said to the General: "We are having many criticisms, General." Pershing replied: "The Y. M. C. A. are not in this to avoid criticism, are they, but to render as much service as possible to the men under the limitations under which we are all working in this war." To my mind, that sentence puts the whole business in a nutshell. It would be difficult, I fancy impossible, to mention an organization or to name a Department of our own Government or of any other Government which has not during the war and during the post-war period had its shortcomings, weaknesses and grounds for complaint. In the long run, no organization and no individual will suffer from criticism, provided it has the right attitude toward criticism, and that attitude, I need not point out again, is to welcome all honest, constructive criticism and to deal as promptly and thoroughly as possible with it at its sources. Lincoln was criticized right up to this time of his death. At one time a friend came to him and said that Stanton, one of the strongest members of his Cabinet, had spoken about him as "that stupid old fool." When the friend reported this to Lincoln, Lincoln replied: "Stanton is a level-headed man. There must be something in his charge. I will speak to him about it." Jesus Christ was criticized all through His public ministry. You will remember how His good was evil spoken of and how His enemies traced the greatest things He wrought to an evil spirit. May we, like Him, meet such charges with humility, unselfishness and courage. Then we can be trusted with larger things. If men lose their desire to profit by experience and to improve; if they lose their confidence in the truth and its ability to prevail no matter what may be done to cloud the issues; if they lose their genuine optimism, then they suffer; but if, on the other hand, they meet their criticisms with open and responsive minds and deal with them positively, constructively and hopefully, they and the cause they represent will come forth stronger and more serviceable than ever.

(The End.)

Mr. Ralph Hyde went to the city Thursday on business.

HURRAH!

WHO SAID THAT THE VICTORY LIBERTY LOAN DRIVE WOULD GO SLOW? He was not a Campbell man, we are sure. Campbell is not a slow town. When it comes to doing big, patriotic things in a big way, you can always count on Campbell. In war work we began right, held out strongly, and of course we will "finish the job."

One reason why Campbell has made such an enviable record in war work is the fact that she has had a live and very efficient War Work Council always on the job. Too much credit can not be given them for their faithful and skillful conduct of the various war activities in which Campbell has acquitted herself so creditably.

A large part of the success of the present drive is due to the bond promotion meeting held in the grammar school auditorium Thursday, April 17, in which Captain Festyn Davies and his festival chorus not only entertained but inspired one of the largest and most enthusiastic audiences that has ever assembled in Campbell. It is needless to say that as a director of chorus singing Capt. Davies is great. His reputation had long preceeded his coming and the singing fully satisfied the great expectations which had been aroused. The interesting and eloquent addresses by the wounded heroes and Mr. Alexander Sheriffs, and the maneuvers of the tank filled out a remarkable program. The Committee on arrangements, consisting of Mr. C. H. Whitman, Mrs. Geo. Parso, Mrs. Geo. Robson, Earnest Barron and Miss Elsie M. Wood, deserve all the congratulations which are being showered upon them for their success in putting over such a big thing.

Victory Bond subscriptions in Campbell up to the time of our going to press amount to $87,850 by 437 subscribers. Campbell's quota is $55,500. Perhaps had the aviators known that Campbell was so much bigger than she looked when viewed from the sky, their visit on Volunteer day would not have been so brief.

Local and Personal

Mrs. Lewis and son Charlie spent last week in San Francisco—the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Isham and family.

Miss Mary Fablinger is chaperone to a party of High School Girls who are spending the week at the "Brown Cottage" in Saratoga.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Merrill and family motored over to Monterey and Pacific Grove and spent Friday and Saturday enjoying the scenery and the ocean breeze.

The Guild of the Congregational church held its monthly tea at the home of Mrs. Coupland Thursday evening. A program of readings and vocal and instrumental music was presented.

Don't forget the Meeting of the Orchardists at the Coffee Club Saturday evening, April 26. It will be of special interest to you and your presence will help the meeting.

Miss Olga Evans and sister "Bobbie" are visiting "Dad" and incidently doing spring house cleaning before their departure for the Aromas home in a few days. Miss Olga is clerking in a music and art store in Watsonville.

If the men-folk could only work as fast as the women-folk can plan it for them all these unsightly roadside weeds would vanish in a night. It is small encouragement for one to dig and clean his own yard if the neighbor's yard and curbing is never touched from year to year. The women are house-cleaning—it's one way to keep out of their way, Mr. Man, to get busy with the weeds.

CANNY DOCTOR PUMPS FRIEND AND PROFITS
San Francisco Physician Lets Patients Pay Him in Bonds Rather Than Cash at Par

This reads or tastes or looks like the foam of a press agent's brew. But it isn't. It actually happened although it is propaganda.

There is a physician and surgeon of high professional standing in San Francisco who, if he wasn't Irish, would be Scotch. He is that canny.

The other day he met a friend of his, a stock and bond expert. "Doc," as his friends call him, is always looking for information. He pumps everybody and they like him for it. So the bond man wasn't a bit surprised when "Doc" shot this at him:

"How about the next Liberty Loan—it going to get over?"

"It sure will," replied the bondman. "It's going to be the last and the best of the Liberty Loans."

"Advise me to load up?" persisted "Doc."

"I sure do—best security in the world—year from now it will be worth half again as much as you pay."

"Well, I figured it out that way myself," confessed the physician. "Of course I was going to buy anyway, but I think I'll strain everything a bit and really load up."

"Suppose you've got previous issues?" asked the bondman.

"Sure, and what's more I'm still piling those Liberty bonds up. Every time a patient offers them in payment I grab them. They look good to me."

"You're a wise guy—hang onto them, Doc. I've got a few myself. Gotta date with the wife—so long."

HALF BILLION SAVED ON AIRCRAFT BILL

Half a billion dollars was saved by the War Department up to April 1st by cancellation of aircraft contracts. These contracts, according to the government statement, are only a small part of the saving which has been made by abandonment of contracts for war material. In spite of these savings, the statement adds, material costing millions of dollars will have to be paid for largely through money to be raised in the Victory Loan.

VICTORY LOAN TEST OF PATRIOTISM—Wood

Major General Leonard Wood, who at Camp Funston trained two divisions of Americans for overseas service, has asked the American people to support the Fifth Loan. He says:

"We have carried the war on successfully so far and we must see it through. The Fifth Loan, coming as it does after the armistice, will be a more severe test than the others, of the patriotism of our people. It is just as important as any loan we have made, and it should be carried through just as vigorously as the others. It is no time now to let up on our efforts. Reorganization is even more difficult and almost as important as the period of preparation. Put it over, and good luck. We must have it."

THE PEOPLE WILL PAY

Regardless of what our feelings may be as to the management of the war, our honor as a nation is pledged to the payment of the bills for the war. No man who holds his own reputation for business integrity above reproach doubts that. He would scrupulously pay his own debts and the debts of his country are a very definite part of his own obligations.

The government has contracted certain debts. It has come to the people for the money with which to satisfy these obligations. Through statements of its highest officials it has repeatedly made clear to all that it expects to secure this money not from the banks or the great financial institutions, but through the whole hearted support of the great majority of its citizens.

It will be a higher type of patriotism that will be called to the test during the coming days than responded to the former appeals of the government. Aside from a few technicalities the war is over. The fifth loan will be raised without the spur of hostilities because the American people are capable of reaching greater heights of patriotism than they have yet climbed.

W. C. T. U. Notes
Sound The Jubilee

Dear Comrades: The time from April 21st to May 10th in our ten weeks Jubilee Drive is set apart specifically by Mother National for gaining new members. The work of the W. C. T. U. was never more important than just now and never more needed. Into line then every White Riboner for these three weeks of intensive work. Place your work before people to make it grip their hearts and cause them to feel the compeling force of our Jubilee Song' "God is calling us to march with him in making all things new," There is not the shadow of a doubt but we can double our membership if we would but get tremendously in earnest. There never was a more favorable time for individual effort.

People are ready to listen to the personal appeal. There are a host of women waiting for an invitation to join us. Will you be the one to extend the invitation? It is a time of opportunity!

Once before we asked you to be a "Go get her," and Mrs. Dorr offers you the slogan "Go get your friend."

We suggest that a committee of two be appointed for each one of the churches whose business it shall be to canvas that church for new members. You of course understand that we are to make no appeal for money for our Jubilee fund during the time of the Liberty Bond Drive. We are loyal daughters of our country and will help in making this Bond Drive a great success just as we have in the four previous ones. We can work for members and disseminate information relative to our Drive. Immediately after May 10th we will again take up the Million Dollar Drive, and carry it forward to victory. Meanwhile for the coming three weeks help the Fifth Liberty Loan Drive and get new members. In closing may we, Silas Wegg like, drop into poetry?

If you strike a thorn or rose,
Get new members,
If it hails or if it snows-
Get new members.
Taint no use to sit and whine
When the fish aint on your line
Bait your hook and keep a tryin',
To get new members
If your boys go off to war,
Get new members,
If your girls grow wings and soar
Get new members.
Can't you hear the country hum?
Prohibition's sure to come
If we keep on fighting rum
And get new members,

Yours for Victory members

Easter Services at M. E. Church

The Methodist church had a very impressive Easter Service. The church was beautiful decorated with flowers. There was a program of special music by the choir and an impressive Easter Sermon by the pastor. There were two baptisms and ten additions to the church, making 30 accessions to the church the last two Sabbaths.

The Aid Society of the M. E. Church church enjoyed a delightful meeting at the home of Mrs. Ainsley.

The Sunday School are planning their Annual picnic for May 4 at Congress Springs.

The Annual Roll Call of the Methodist Church is to be held to-night, supper at 6:30 o'clock. Each family is requested to bring sandwiches and one other dish for the table. All members and their families are included in the invitation. New members especially are cordially urged to be present and participate in this church family reunion.

SHOT 9 TIMES SOLDIER TAKES HUN TRENCHES
Corporal Storms Heights of Ourcq River With Remnants of His Platoon

At the direction of the War Department General Pershing has forwarded from France accounts of 100 deeds of heroism performed by soldiers of the American forces, most typical of the spirit of our army. The story of Corporal Sidney Manning is one of conspicuous gallantry.

Corporal Manning was in charge of an automatic rifle squad when his battalion assaulted the heights of the Ourcq River. During the advance on the hill Manning's platoon commander was killed, and just as the line reached the crest of the hill the platoon sergeant fell.

Corporal Manning then assumed command of the platoon. Though he himself was severely wounded and was the only survivor of his squad, this soldier led forward the 35 remaining men of the platoon against an enemy strong point, wired, entrenched and defended by machine guns, which dominated the Ourcq valley. He was repeatedly wounded but with seven men took the position. While his men consolidated the line he held off a considerable number of the enemy fifty yards away with his rifle. When the position had been consolidated he crawled back to shelter, having received nine wounds.

Backing up such examples of sacrifice as this the government is calling on the people to take the Victory Loan to pay for the expenses of our war time army.
